

Vazha Chiaberashvili

(201) 693-6059 New Jersey Github LinkedIn Personal Site chiaberashv1@gmail.com

Dear Team at UnitedHealth,

I am a motivated, creative, and dependable former audio engineer who loves to enable people to do more and has recently transitioned into Software Engineering. I'm very excited to be applying for this position.

My music industry experience gave me numerous transferable skills such as working with clients, planning, completing projects promptly, and working with large groups of people. I developed skills in communication and collaboration that resulted in successful projects. I believe these skills are crucial for producing an efficient work environment applying to my job as a software developer. I have since gained essential tech skills as an engineer making me an excellent candidate as your next Software Engineer.

My strong background in creative mediums led me to programming, furthering my education by attending App Academy's 24-week, 3000+ hour Software Engineering program to become proficient in Python, React, Redux, JavaScript, HTML, CSS, PostgreSQL, along with many other technologies. In my time at App Academy, I built several projects such as !Robinhood, an application for monitoring, buying, and selling stocks using the Finhub API to display information related to those stocks. You can view my work on my resume and portfolio site as linked above. I've built apps alone and within a group using an Agile workflow with swift turnaround times.

My work at App Academy is evidence of my ability to problem solve by myself, work back to back to back 90 hour weeks, collaborate effectively with new teams on tight deadlines, etc. I can learn new skills and technologies quickly and to completion. Combining my creative, focused, and strategic qualities along with my recently acquired technical skills, I know I would be a perfect fit for UnitedHealth. I have seen the work you do and am confident I can contribute to the team as a full-stack developer and help you achieve your mission of bringing the best user experience to your clients. I'm excited about this role and looking forward to talking with you further about the opportunity.

Sincerely,

Vazha Chiaberashvili